

Our Privacy Policy

The Information We Collect

Data-Dynamix, Inc. collects various types of information from all of its customers including visitors to www.data-dynamix.com (the "Site"). Data-Dynamix web server collects general data pertaining to each Site visitor, including the IP, the domain name, the web page, the length of time spent and the pages accessed while visiting this Site. This information is collected to, among other things, aggregate information from online and offline sources, facilitate system administration, improve the content of this Site, customize and improve the user experience for Site visitors and customers, and improve customer service generally. Data-Dynamix may also retain the content of the communications that are sent to Data-Dynamix customer service representatives. This information helps Data-Dynamix to respond to inquiries regarding this Site.

Use of the Information Collected

Data-Dynamix uses the information that is collected from Site visitors and customers to, among other things, better serve customers and improve the content of this Site. Data-Dynamix may also use the information collected to notify Site visitors of changes to this Site, to notify Site visitors of new products, and for any other legitimate and lawful business purpose of Data-Dynamix. Data-Dynamix may choose to share information with third parties, such as suppliers, financial institutions, and third party service providers, and with any successor to Data-Dynamix interest. Data-Dynamix may disclose information about any Site visitor in response to subpoenas, investigative requests (with or without subpoena) and other legal process, to exercise Data-Dynamix legal rights and defend against legal claims.

Cookies and Other Technology Information

A cookie is a small file stored on your computer by a web site to give you a unique ID (each, a "Cookie"). Data-Dynamix uses Cookies to track new visitors to this Site and recognize past customers so that Data-Dynamix may present more personalized content. Cookies are used to assist Data-Dynamix in customizing Site information. Cookies used by this Site do not contain any personally identifiable information. Data-Dynamix cannot identify a customer unless that information is provided voluntarily. IMPORTANT NOTE: If you configure your computer to block or erase cookies you will not be able to use certain portions of this Site.

Data-Dynamix contracts with a third party data collection and reporting service ("Third Party Service") to collect information regarding Site visitors and their use of this Site. Data-Dynamix uses this information to provide Site and service enhancements for customers and Site visitors. The Third Party Service is contractually prohibited from using information obtained in the course of providing these services to Data-Dynamix in any manner other than solely for Data-Dynamix's business purposes.

Unsubscribing from E-Mail Marketing

Each Site visitor can unsubscribe from receiving e-mails containing promotional offers from Data-Dynamix simply by clicking on the appropriate link and following the procedure described.
